IBM Bluemix

Dear Bluemixer,

We are writing to inform you of an important upcoming change to the operating system (also known as "stack") that underpins apps hosted on IBM Bluemix™.

The lucid64 stack is derived from Ubuntu 10.04 and has been part of Bluemix since it was launched. That stack has reached the end of its life and as a result, we are migrating to cflinuxfs2, a stack derived from Ubuntu 14.04.

All apps in the platform will need to be migrated to the cflinux2 stack, and we are beginning that four-step process today.
